

How to register for abstract submission to the IBTRS 2022

If you would like to submit an abstract to the International BioThreats Reduction Symposium (IBTRS) or have problems with your submission, please see the screenshots with explanations.

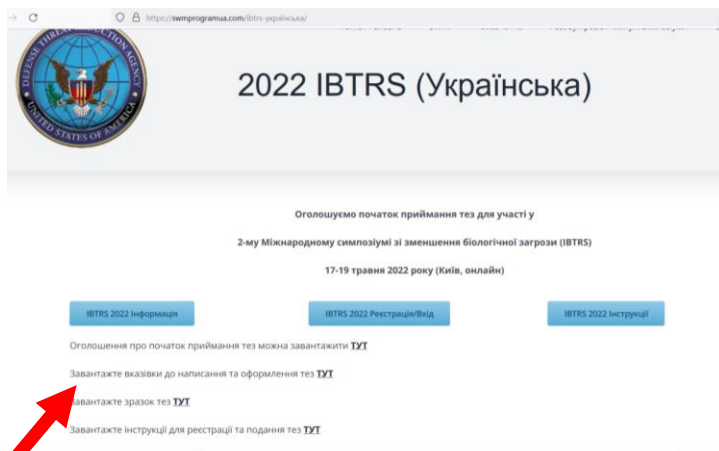

Our website <https://swmprogramua.com/> is designed to work with various events, so please make sure you register properly.

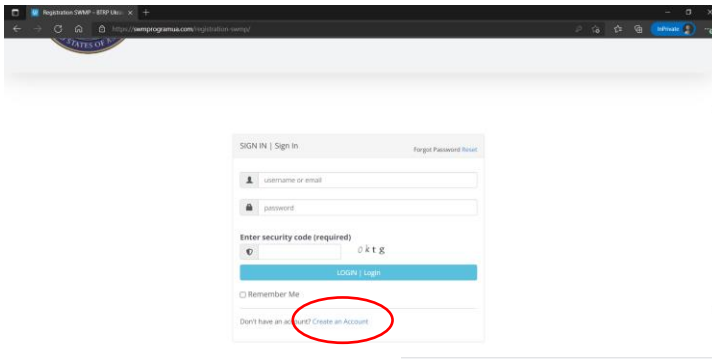

If you would like to go to the IBTRS 2022 Symposium page, click here

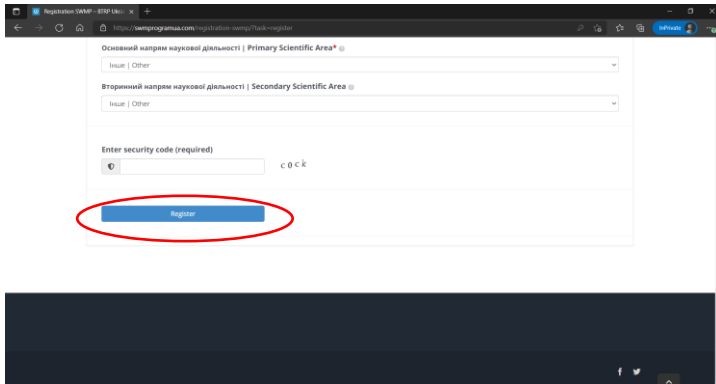

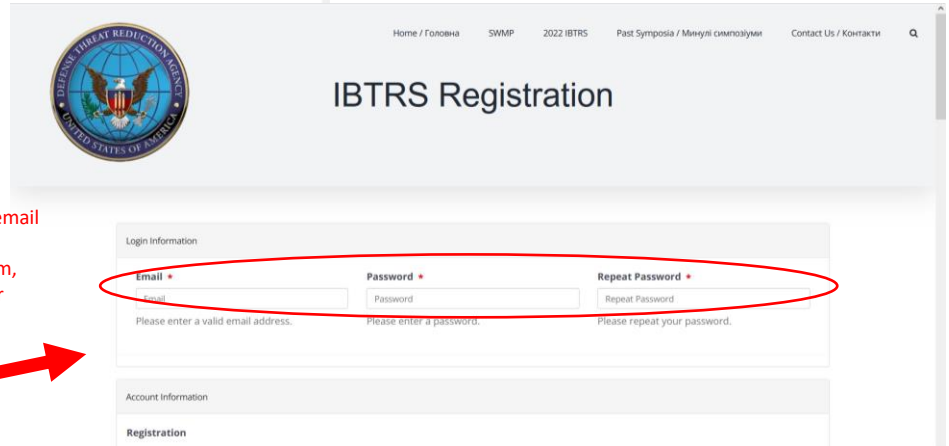

Select language

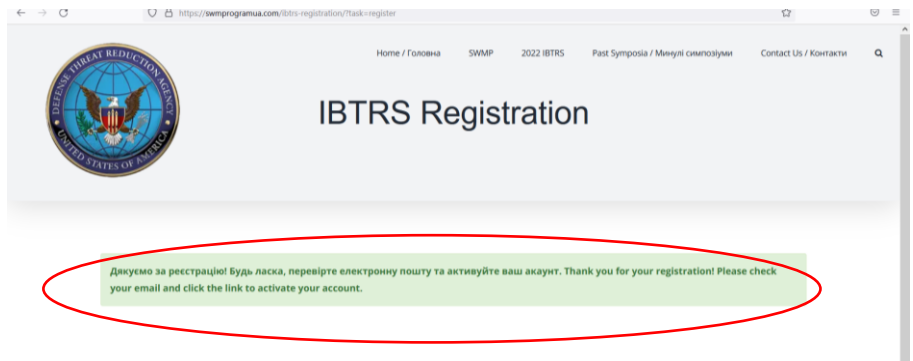

Carefully read the Abstract guidelines, download an abstract template, save it under the correct name and click Register

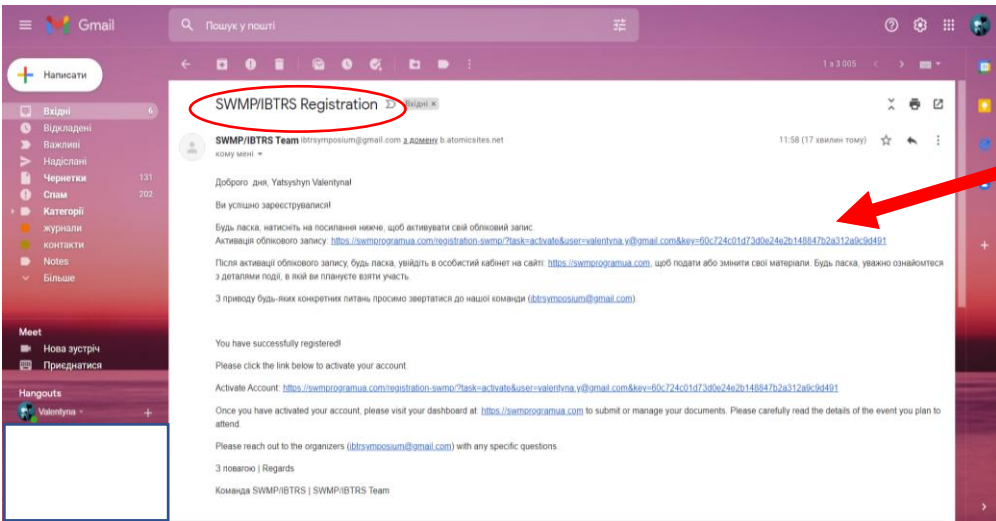

Create an account, enter your personal email and create a password.
Fill in all the fields of the registration form, enter the security code and click Register

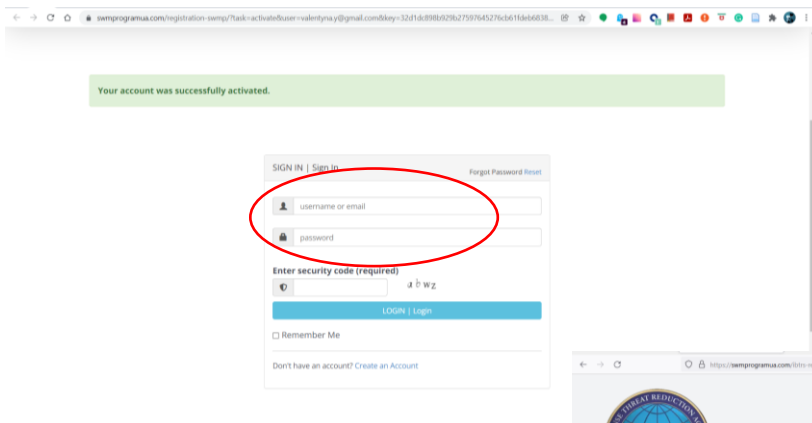

If all went well, you will see a window like this

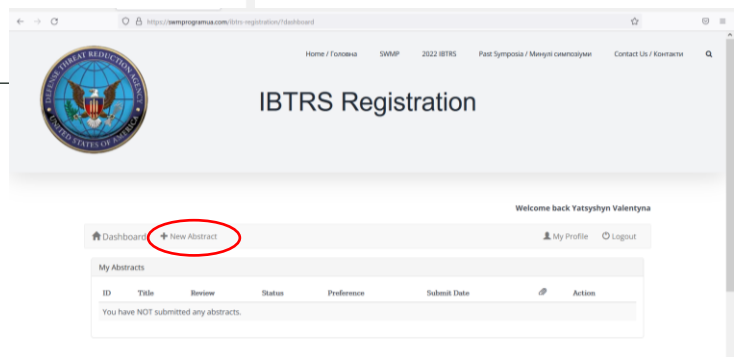

Go to your mailbox and open the registration confirmation email. If you do not see such an email, check the SPAM folder.
Click on the link to activate your account.
You will see a login window where you need to enter your email address and password, which you created at the registration stage

After logging in, you will find yourself in your personal account (Dashboard), where you can create your submission.
To do this, click + New Abstract.

Make sure you register for the correct event and fill in all the fields carefully:

- Submission name: IBTRS_2022 !!!
- Keywords: the same as in your abstract
- Abstract file name: Lastname_Firstname_2022 IBTRS_abstract
- The name and surname of the author and the affiliation (place of work / study) must be filled in as in the registration form.

When you are finished, click the Submit button.
